

Jeannie Peace - Administrator

What I like to call the “basics” are what I am passionate about – turning up, turning up on time, manners, looking smart, being kind and always trying your best. I strongly believe that if we teach our children the basics, it is something that they will carry within them throughout their lives and if they can get the basics right they won’t go far wrong!

