

Mrs Meredith - Religious Education (RE) subject leader

RE is a subject I am particularly passionate about. I love teaching about different faiths and finding out more about different beliefs. It is great to see the progression in each year group across our school. I love to talk to the children about their developing knowledge and listen to the children reflect upon their own thoughts and ideas. I especially enjoy developing links with different religious leaders in the community to ensure children have authentic experiences linked to RE to develop their understanding. It is very important to me that the children in our school visit different places of worship and have the experiences of listening to speakers from different faiths. I am proud that I am helping children to develop the knowledge, skills and attitudes that will help them contribute to a world where respect, toleration and equality for everyone is normal and expected.
